DAYTONA

A close-up photograph of a kitchen cabinet. The cabinet features a light-colored marble pattern with dark veins. A prominent feature is a large, dark-colored geometric frame made of brass, which is set against the marble background. The frame consists of several interconnected, irregular shapes that create a complex, crystalline pattern. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures of the marble and the metallic sheen of the brass. In the background, other parts of the kitchen are visible, including a shelf with some items.
