HELLO CLICK! NEW ROSE CLICK SYSTEM

The Click smart fastening system has been designed to provide maximum safety and prevent accidents or damage caused by the accidental detachment of the handle, even if the fixing screw loosens over time.

How it works: just insert the handle into the spindle to activate the automatic locking system. To remove it, simply loosen the set screw and press the release button located on the underside of the rose.

This system reflects our commitment to innovation, safety, and our customers' trust in every detail of our products.

DESIGN STUDIO

Groël Studio was born from that deep, burning need we had to give shape and life to all the wild ideas that kept whizzing around in our heads. At one point, we realised our visions and concepts couldn't just be left in the "what if" zone — they needed somewhere to run wild. That's when we started to dream up what's now known as our little space for mind-blowing magic.

At first, we knew we needed an "offbeat" space — a spot where we could let ourselves be flooded with all sorts of inspiration and fully immerse ourselves in the creative process. This studio isn't just some room with four walls; it's a sanctuary where creativity can roam free, without limits or restrictions. Here, every idea, no matter how teeny-weeny or mind blowing, gets its chance to shine.

Over time, Groël has become the home of countless designs, each one carrying a piece of our essence, our passion for making cool stuff. Every project we've tackled has been dreamed up and brought to life in this very space, each one reflecting not just our style and vision but also the constant evolution of our journey. For us, this studio is way more than just a design workshop; it's the beating heart of everything we do. It's where we've learned, grown, and — most importantly — had the chance to push our creative limits. Groël is, without a doubt, the physical manifestation of our need to create, to innovate, and to breathe life into everything we've ever dreamed of.

I CAN'T EXPLAIN IT—SO MY HANDS SPEAK FOR ME

SILENCE SOUNDS LIKE THIS WHEN I CREATE

I take a deep breath, standing at the door, ready to dive into the silence that somehow fills the space with more creativity than a childhood notebook could hold. The stillness isn't just calming; it's inspiring—an invitation to let thoughts flow. And as soon as I step in, it's not the words that do the talking—it's my hands. Every movement, every gesture becomes a bold statement, each line sketched on paper a promise of something amazing yet to come. It's like every detail I touch springs to life, engaging in a silent conversation, as if the materials themselves are whispering,

"This... this is where magic happens."

It's a constant dialogue between that wild, untamed imagination that sneaks up on you when you least expect it and the physical world where even in the smallest of forms, defines the final masterpiece.

And now, let's talk about our beloved wood carvings—because, yes, they deserve a moment in the spotlight. Even though it's an age-old, deeply artisanal process with all the flair of traditional Italian craftsmanship, here we don't just follow the rules.

We break them—while keeping a few traditions alive, of course. I first start with pencil sketches and then carve those ideas into wood, staying true to a craft that, let's be honest, most people have ditched in favour of 3D printers.

Not us, we hold onto those wood carvings like a secret recipe, knowing they add a touch of character and authenticity that machines just can't replicate.

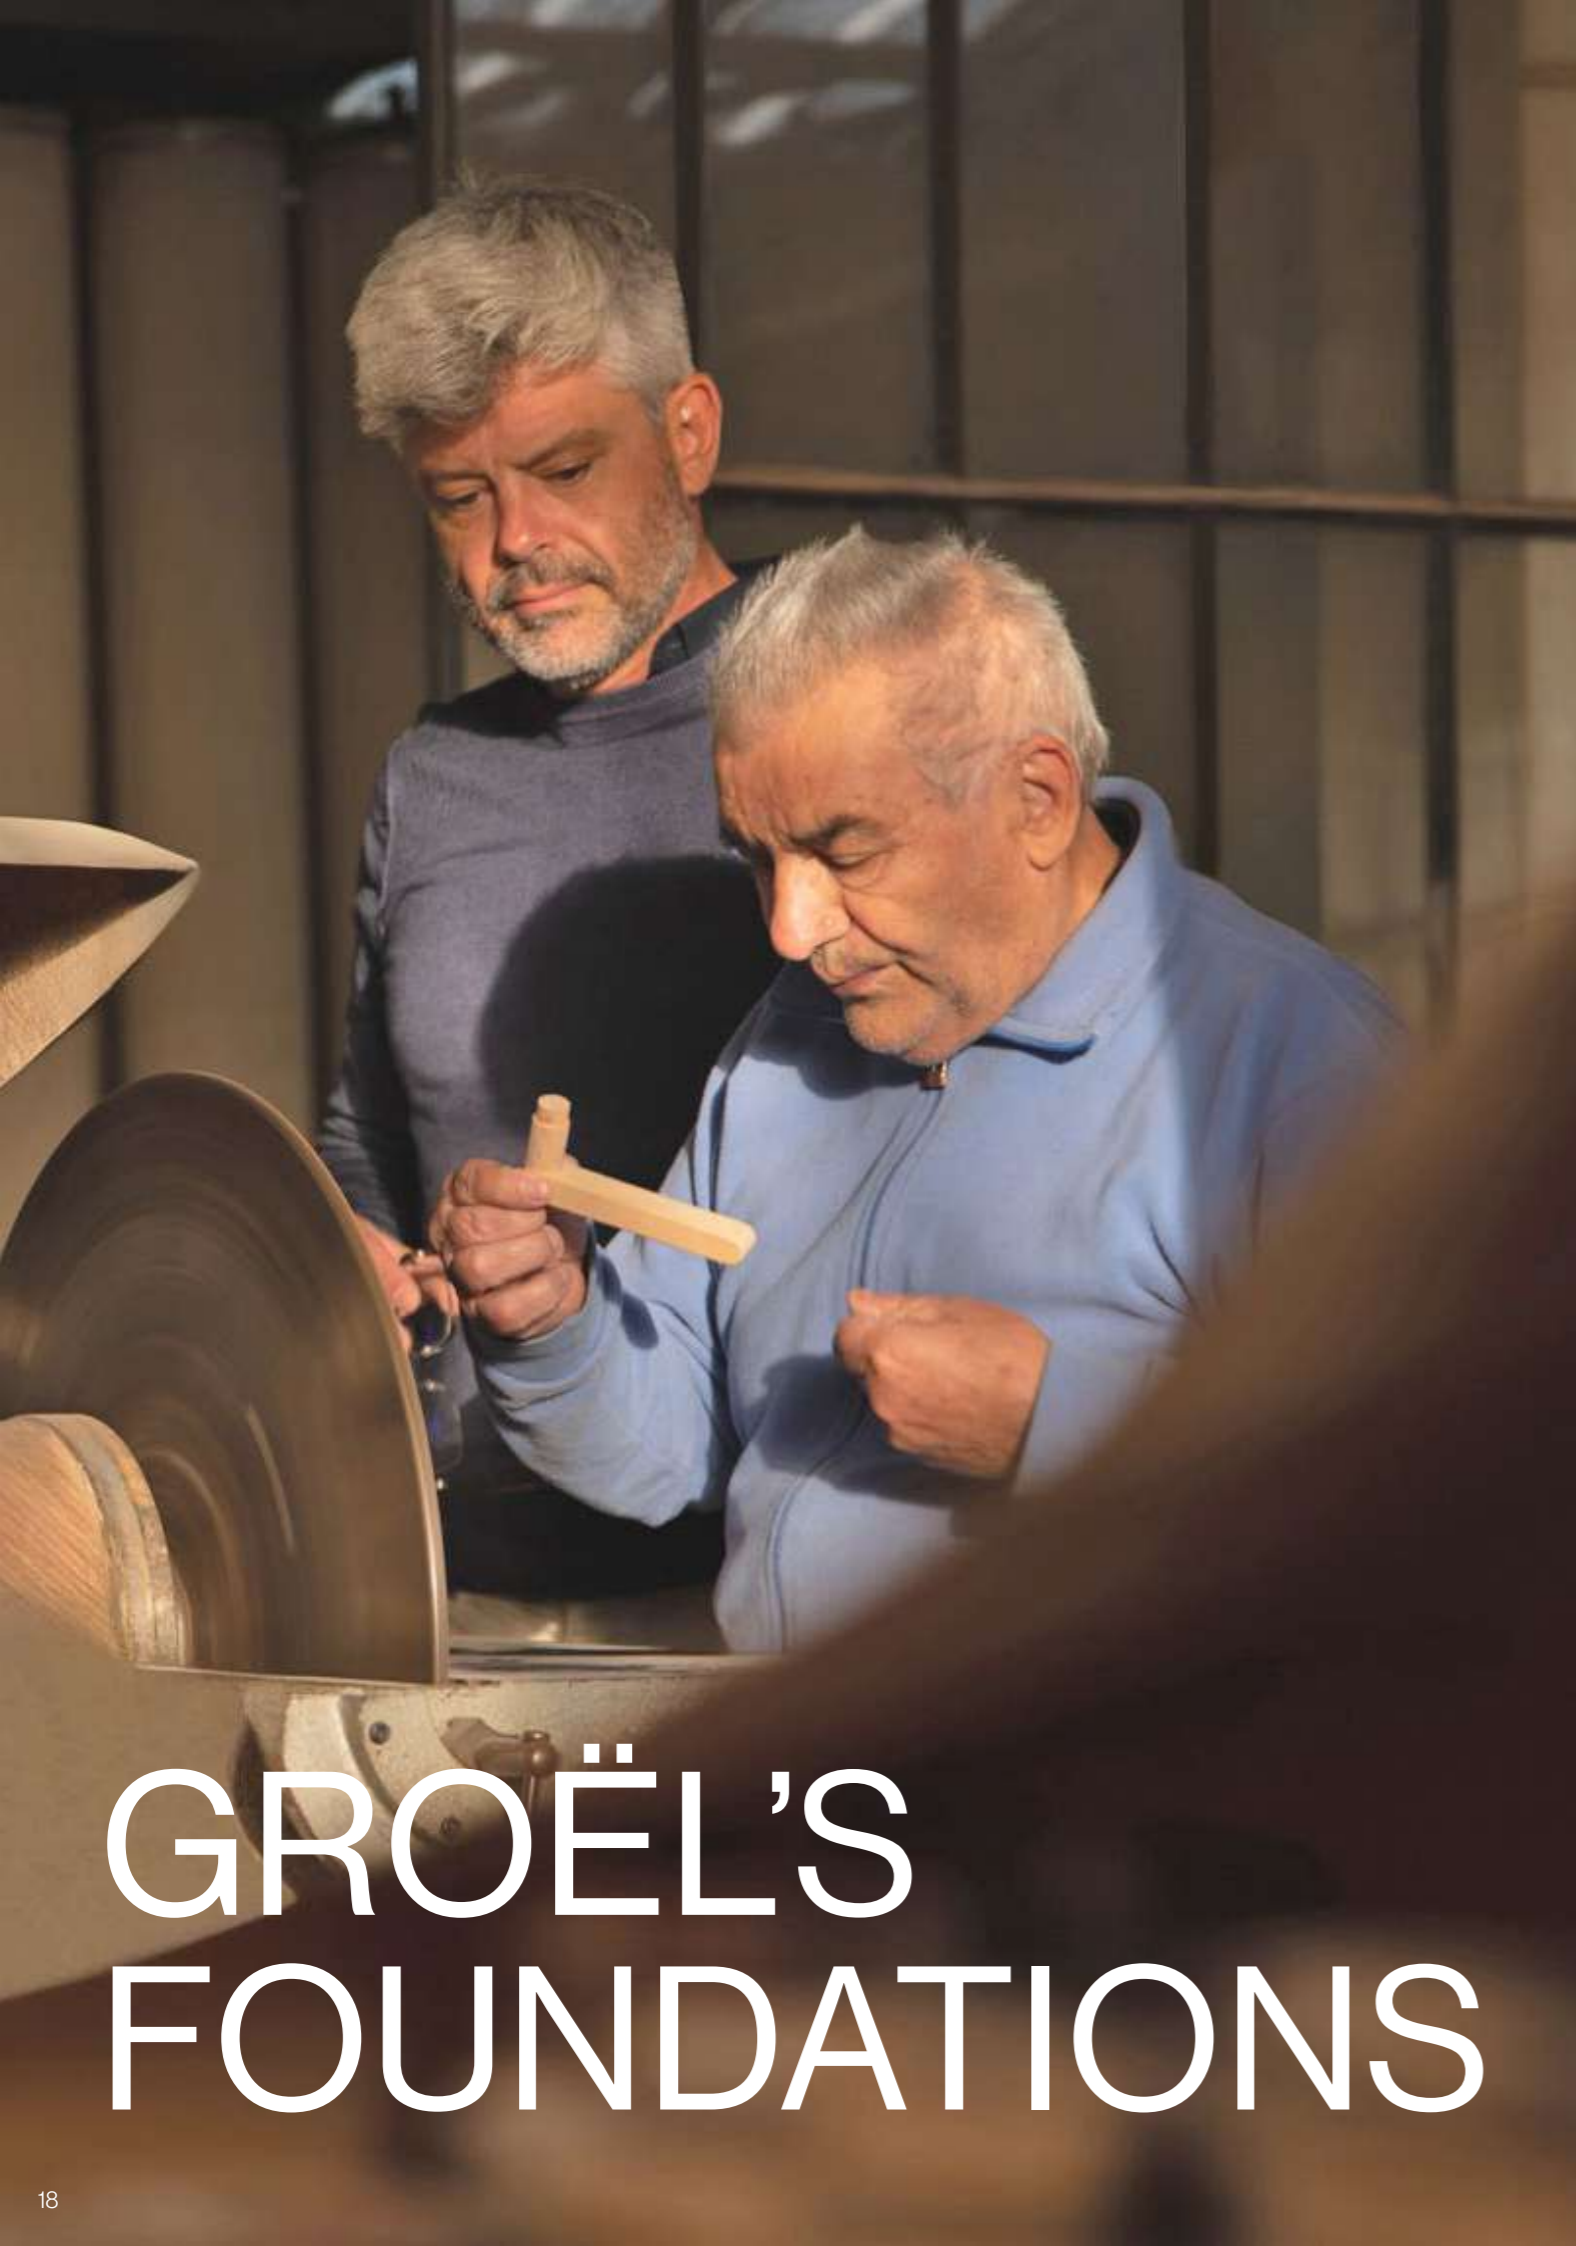

GROËL DESIGN STUDIO

The feel of a wooden prototype carving in hand? Absolutely unbeatable. There's something deeply satisfying about running your fingers over its texture, feeling the shapes take form.

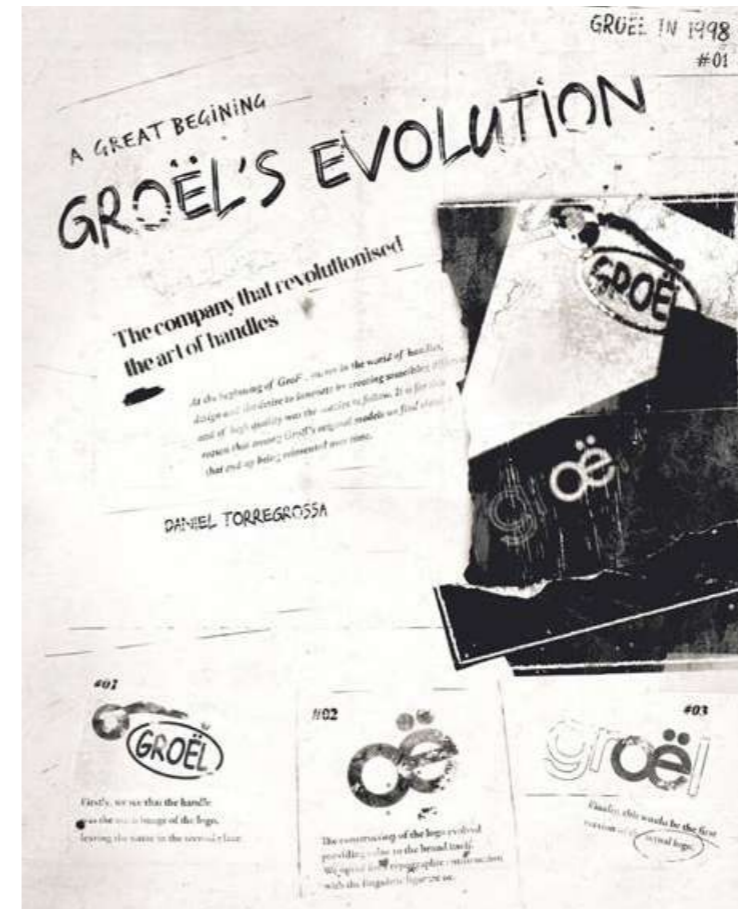

It's like the wood speaks to us, giving us an intimate connection to the creative process. This tactile experience goes beyond what paper can offer—it provides a crystal-clear vision of what the final product will look like.

As our hands trace the curves and details of the design, the finished piece becomes sharper in our minds.

We start to picture how it will look, how it will feel, how it will fit perfectly into its final space. It's like a sneak peek into the future, except way more satisfying because it's carved from tradition, imagination, and just a little bit of magic.

GROËL'S FOUNDATIONS

ONCE UPON A HANDLE

The story of Groël is like one of those family chronicles that starts with “once upon a time, in a land not so far away”. But, in this case, there are no castles or princesses; this story takes us back to the 1950s, to a small corner where Grandfather José Torregrossa was beginning to pull the strings of the hardware industry. Visionary and fearless, his knack for connecting markets and expanding business networks made him a key figure in the Iberian Peninsula. Not only did he understand how to blend the diversity of the European market with Spanish industry, but he also turned those exchanges into an art form. When I asked him how he managed such a feat, he would simply say: “You’ve got to do things right, with passion, love, and dedication. The way it should be done.”

Those words, so simple yet powerful, were etched into our minds. From an early age, we grew up hearing it as a family mantra, something more than just a lesson—it was a way of seeing life and doing things. Each, in their own style, adopted our grandpa’s essence and carried it forward, looking for new ways to apply it to the times we lived in. One of us, ever creative and analytical, understood that true success wasn’t just in the results, but in creating something with genuine value, something that would leave a lasting impression. The other one, on the other hand, more pragmatic, knew that for that vision to become a reality, it needed to be shaped into something tangible for the market.

Together, we realised that the hardware industry was stuck, trapped in a monotony of repetitive designs and standards that no longer met the needs of an increasingly demanding society. We saw something essential was missing: a fresh approach, a spark of inspiration. So, with grandpa’s legacy as the foundation and a burning passion for innovation, we decided to found Groël, a brand that not only inherited a tradition of doing things right but also chose to write its own story, fusing tradition with modernity.

Our commitment to a “Made in Italy” production was a game changer. We opted for the excellence of Italian processes, a manufacturing tradition renowned worldwide for its quality. This approach allowed us not only to stand out but to raise the standards of the hardware industry. Rather than settling for the conventional, we combined the precision and expertise of northern Italy with the adaptability needed to thrive in today’s competitive market.

Additionally, our certified PVD process for handle manufacturing, ensures an unmatched wear resistance and offering lifetime guarantees. With this finish, we have achieved a perfect balance between durability and sustainability, without losing sight of our commitment to excellence.

Every handle we make carries not just the Torregrossa family’s touch but the soul of a company that doesn’t just make products—it creates experiences. Because Groël isn’t just a brand; it’s the realisation of a dream shared by three generations. And every door that opens with one of our handles is more than just a physical entry—it’s an opening to something greater. Every detail matters. Every piece has a purpose. Opening a door with our handles is far more than an everyday gesture; it’s a statement of intent. It’s an invitation to explore the unknown, to push boundaries, and to rediscover the beauty of what’s functional and, at the same time, aesthetically perfect.

And although daily life often leads us to overlook many things, it’s those small objects that make up our routine that truly make a difference. Most of the time, we don’t even notice their importance until something doesn’t work as it should. When a door doesn’t close properly or a handle gets stuck, it’s then that we realise how much we depend on those details, how essential they are to our well-being. In those moments, we stop, reflect, and realise that they aren’t just objects but fundamental pieces that ensure the smooth flow of our daily lives. And in that very moment, we understand the beauty that lies in the simplest, most functional things. That’s the true magic of what Groël creates: products that not only serve a purpose but add value, comfort, and a touch of distinction to every space they touch.

This is how a handle, an object so common and seemingly insignificant, becomes much more: a small but crucial work of art, a reminder that functionality and beauty can coexist in the most everyday objects. And, in the end, it all comes down to this: doing things right, with passion, love, and dedication. The way they should be done.

SINCE 1998, GROËL HAS BEEN REVOLUTIONISING THE HARDWARE INDUSTRY, PROVING THAT FUNCTIONAL CAN BE IMPRESSIVE.

Today, Groël is much more than a handle brand. With over 25 years of experience, it has established itself as a benchmark in the industry, driven by the vision of always offering the best. A passion for quality, innovation, and design fuels every step it takes, keeping it at the forefront of a constantly changing market.

Today, Groël remains a beacon of evolution and growth, because “we never stop dreaming, innovating, and searching for what’s next.” Every handle we make is a piece of that legacy, another step towards excellence. And as we look to the future, we remain convinced that the best is always yet to come.

OUR MOMENT

INDITEX OFFICES

In La Coruña follow a signature architectural approach: generous open spaces, oversized windows, clean lines, and a crisp white façade. A custom pull handle was designed to complement this elegant simplicity — bold, functional, and perfectly in tune with the building's quiet confidence.

PORTE D'ORLÉANS

One of Paris' leading financial hubs, this modern business complex comprises two buildings designed for work and wellbeing — featuring green courtyards, rooftop terraces, cafés and restaurants.

For the executive offices, the BACI model was the natural choice: sleek, understated, and effortlessly elegant. A design that speaks in a calm, confident tone.

RASTRELLO BOUTIQUE HOTEL

In Panicale, Italy, Pelizzari Studio stepped in to carry out a delicate restoration — one that respects the past while embracing the future. The intervention combines seismic safety with refined interior design and cutting-edge technology. This boutique hotel, with seven unique rooms and a private apartment, also houses a restaurant where every space tells a distinct story.

CURVE BUSINESS CENTRE

Located in the city of Saint-Denis, is the brainchild of Chartier Dalix Architectes and was brought to life by property developer BNP Paribas. This striking 24,000-square-metre structure stands out with its sweeping curved form and solid timber construction — a nod to sustainable architecture in the eco-conscious Zac Monjoie district.

To finish the project with a flourish, the SOKOL lever was chosen — a handle that soars high with sleek, contemporary minimalism and unapologetic strength.

CAP VERMELL GRAND HOTEL

Is a luxury retreat perched atop a hillside, designed to evoke the charm of a traditional Mallorcan village. With thoughtful references to local artistry and cultural heritage, it's a place that whispers authenticity in every corner.

The HÉLICE lever forms part of the interior story told across more than 100 suites in this exclusive resort from the prestigious Cap Vermell Group.

GAS NATURAL FENOSA

Headquarters rises as a 20-storey glass tower, now part of Barcelona's evolving skyline. Designed as a symbolic gateway to the La Barceloneta district, it's a building that connects with its surroundings while making a strong architectural statement. It found its perfect match in the LOG.GIC handle — subtle yet clever, minimalist yet expressive. A design that quietly transcends time.

MY BELOVED TREASURE

Not because it shines (though sometimes it does), but because this is where everything we dream of comes to life. It's right in the heart of Lombardy, in one of those buzzing areas full of factories, ideas, trains, and cafés — with the calm of the lakes just beyond. It's right there, amid the industrial hustle of northern Italy, where what we like to call a small daily miracle unfolds.

THE FORMULA?

Simple: cutting-edge technology, a team that knows exactly what they're doing and loves doing it, and above all, a healthy obsession with precision, quality, and speed. This isn't about just switching machines on and crossing your fingers. Every step is fine-tuned with the same care that goes into making a perfect espresso. Everything is calibrated, checked, and polished. And every product passes through human hands — watchful eyes, seasoned experience — before it's declared "ready."

And what's all this for? So that our clients' wildest dreams don't stay just dreams. We keep a broad stock for quick deliveries (for those who are always in a hurry), and if what you're after doesn't exist yet, we'll create it with you. We can start from scratch or put a fresh spin on an existing design. Sometimes all it takes is a small detail or that spark that turns something good into something unforgettable.

LIFE BEHIND BRASS

NOW, LET'S TALK ABOUT BRASS

And in case you're wondering: we don't use just any brass. Only the purest kind — the type you'd expect to find in drinking water systems. Lead-free, no funny business. So clean you could drink from it — though honestly, there are more sensible ways to stay hydrated.

This brass is tough, durable, a real hard nut to crack that demands precise stamping techniques, tightly controlled temperatures, and a lot of respect for the material. Because stamping isn't just pressing a button: it's both an art and a rhythm. Here, every strike is a beat. And every beat plays its part in the symphony of your project.

Mould

NO PRESSURE (JUST KIDDING)

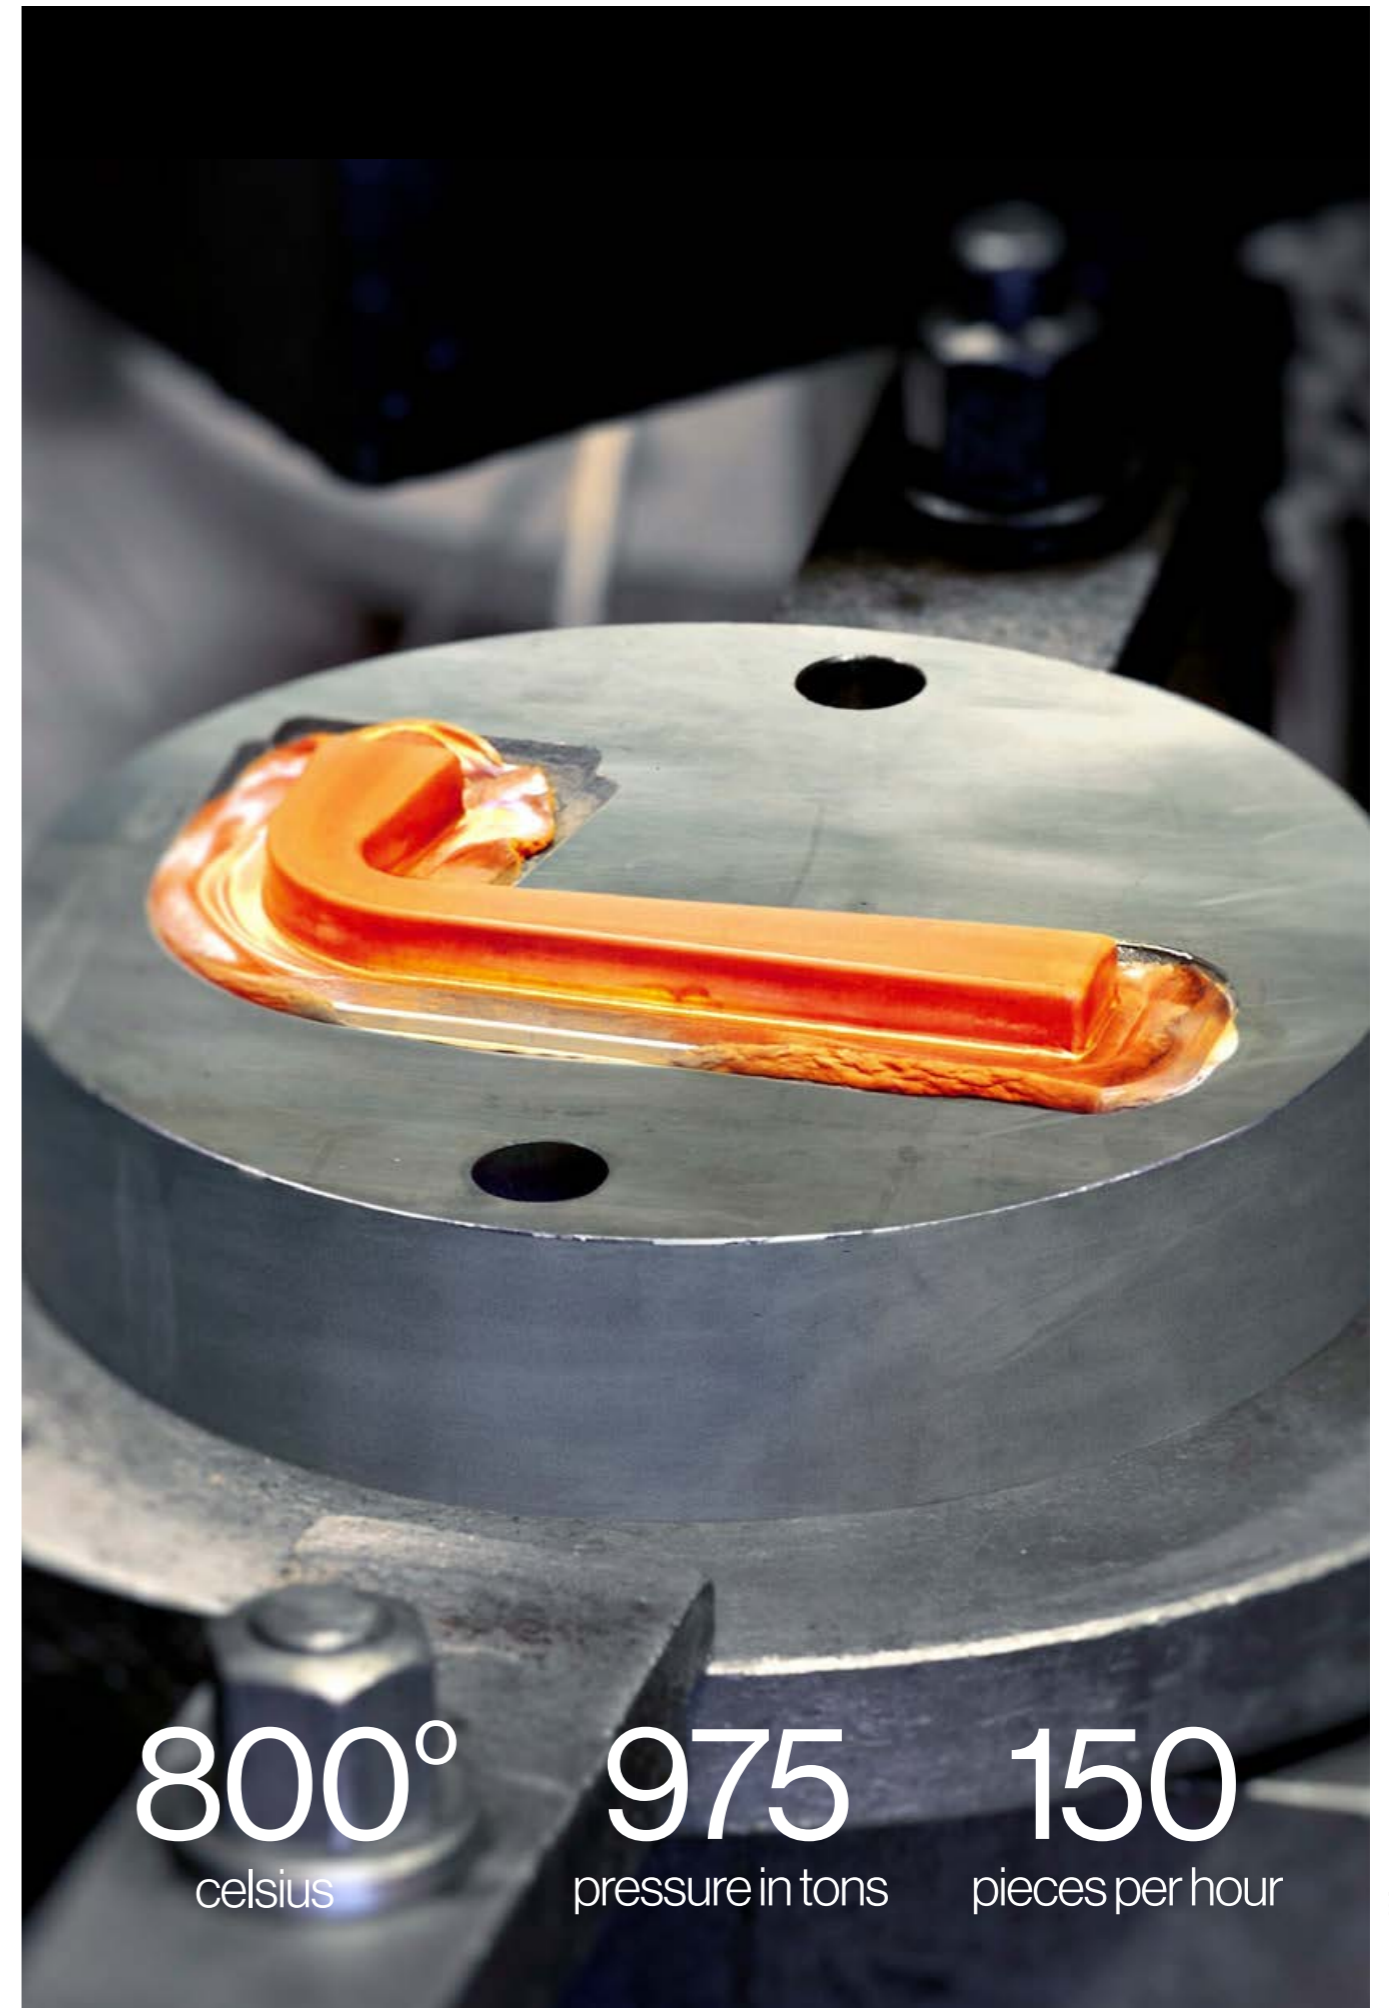

We're talking about the very foundation on which excellence is built. Designed down to the last detail on the computer, then machined from a special steel crafted to withstand countless impacts without losing a single millimetre. After that, we put it through rigorous temperature and pressure tests until we find the perfect formula to make every stamp come out exactly as we imagined.

Forging

WELCOME TO THE FIERY
HEART OF OUR OPERATIONS!

We start by taking our pure brass bars and slicing them into sections. Then we crank up the heat to a blistering 800°C—just enough to toast a marshmallow in a nanosecond. The red-hot bars are then bent and stamped with a pressure of 975 tonnes per square centimetre. Yes, you heard that right. This automated process churns out 150 pieces per hour, like clockwork. After that, we shave off the rough bits, prepping the material for its next glamorous phase.

Machining

LET THE ROBOTS HANDLE
THE HARD STUFF

These machines are the unsung heroes, controlling every movement and operation with military precision to ensure our quality standards are met. Our multisensor measuring machine is like the inspector with the laser eye, taking quick and precise 3D MEASUREMENTS, capturing every detail with high-definition imagery, and handling optical measurements for those oh-so-sensitive surfaces. It's like having a robot with a magnifying glass, only way cooler.

Polishing

TIME FOR A GLOW UP

This is where we add the final touch that brings everything to life. We release any tension in the material and polish every edge and corner until it shines unapologetically. Our team oversees this process with the precision of a jeweller. If anything isn't perfect, it goes back for another round of polishing until it's just right.

Grinding

INDUSTRIAL EXFOLIATING SESH

Our automated system grinds away tirelessly, smoothing out any rough edges and ensuring high surface quality and dimensional accuracy. This guarantees the quality standard from the very first piece to the very last piece.

But sometimes, things don't go as planned. That's when our experts step in with their artisanal touch, manually adjusting anything that doesn't meet our exacting standards. It's like having a master chef taste every dish before it leaves the kitchen.

Satin

I AM MATT ABOUT YOU

And finally, the satin process. It's as if the brass dressed itself in calm, revealing all its strength like a movie star on set. After a flawless polish, it's time to tone down the shine, carefully, to leave a matt surface that begs to be touched. It's not just a visual finish — it's a soft, almost silky texture that smooths out every edge and angle.

And there you have it, a day in my life at La Fabbrica, where we turn raw brass into works of art, one meticulously controlled step at a time. Now, if you'll excuse me, I need a break and an espresso to cure my depresso before the next batch goes in.

Cheers!

ESPUCH

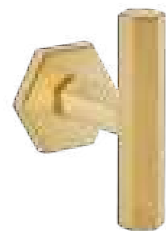

COLLECTION

Since the doors of Azul Tierra first swung open back in 1994, over 25 years have shaped this iconic name in the world of interiors and decor. It all started in Alicante—Toni Espuch's hometown—and later made its mark in Barcelona, becoming a true reflection of its founder's vision and passion.

The Espuch collection, inspired by the humble yet mighty hexagon, is where interior design meets our obsession with quality and detail. Think clean lines, geometric rhythm, and timeless elegance wrapped into pieces that look sharp and work hard. Every element stays true to its roots, celebrating honest materials and understated beauty.

GESTURES

COLLECTION

Straight from Milan and proudly listed among the World's Top 100 Designers, Studio Pelizzari is known for breathing new life into spaces by weaving together modern touches with historical character. The result? Atmospheres that don't follow trends—they set them.

Their Gestures collection is all about connection—between ancient geometry and fluid movement. It's a study in contrasts: bold yet subtle, contemporary yet timeless. Each piece tells its own tale: Shift explores movement through a daring cylindrical form; Snap breaks conventions with a cleanly interrupted line; and Pair celebrates harmony using circular and hexagonal elements. It's design that speaks—without saying a word.
