About us

—A Journey from masterful brass craftsmanship to iconic Italian design excellence.

—1961

Giuseppe Ghidini founded “Ghidini Giuseppe Bosco”, a company specializing in producing brass components for the lighting industry.

The entire production cycle takes place in-house and is characterized by meticulous attention to detail: from the idea to the end product, passing through the various processing stages—from pressure die casting to handmade lost wax, from machining to drilling, from satin-finishing to sand-blasting and polishing. The roots of success lie in the tradition of metalworking and their profound knowledge.

About us

—2016 Know how meets Design: Ghidini1961 is born.

From the know how of Ghidini Giuseppe Bosco and collaborations with a diverse team of Italian and International designers, we give life to an innovative brand, where casted metal is at the core of our design language. Our products are not just meant to decorate a refined environment. Still, they represent something valuable to be cared for, and that can be passed down through generations thanks to their intrinsic and long-lasting value blended with iconic and timeless design.

Settebello

Settebello is conceived as the seventh chapter of a design journey with Ghidini 1961: a natural, almost inevitable evolution. The name conveys this continuity, but also an idea of luck and harmony. Seven becomes sign, rhythm, measure. A system of elements that can be freely composed in space, giving life to fluid, welcoming configurations. The shapes are soft, generous, conceived for comfort and interaction. The modules come together and bend, creating ever-changing geometries, never rigid, able to adapt to interiors and to everyday gestures.

Settebello is a sofa that invites you to linger, to change position, to share. A domestic landscape in constant transformation, where design meets use and becomes experience. The seats are wide and soft, designed to embrace and support the natural movement of the body. The backrests and cushions accompany everyday use with ease, creating a balance between comfort and structure. Settebello is a system in evolution: a sofa that adapts, transforms, and defines the inhabited space. Beyond the rules of geometry.

Settebello

Settebello breaks the monotony of orthogonal forms. Its generous modules, defined by fascinating trapezoidal cuts and sculptural peninsulas, allow the living space to be designed with unprecedented freedom. It is an architectural island that floats in space, becoming the visual and relational focal point of the room. The luxury of informality. The rigor of the metal bases and the decisive geometries of the modules soften into the extraordinary softness of the seats, articulated by a distinctive horizontal banded quilting.

Flo

Lorenza Bozzoli

sofa Flo - small tables Ottanta

Flo

The two and four seater sofas are both made with a significant metal structure, typical of the craftsmanship of Ghidini1961. The cotton velvet provides a strong and distinctive character suitable for both modern and traditional environments. A reinterpretation that fully embraces the principles of contemporary design. The soft armrest suggests an informal interaction with this sofa, reminding that comfort is always a core design element.

Flo

The back view of the Flo family of seaters emphasizes the dialogue between precious materials, such as casted aluminum, cotton velvet and saddle leather.

Customization is once again at the center of the project, thanks to the almost endless combinations between these materials.

Frame

Collection composed of sofas, armchairs, dining and coffee tables, bookshelves and cabinets. Everything starts from a simple element: "the joint", which, combined with elegant rounded 45 degrees extrusions, creates an almost infinite family. The collection is characterized by organic junctions that, in their possible combinations, create minimal, compact and powerful structures. Frame is built starting from few elements that are able to create a large family with essential lines.

Dodo

Dodo is a variant of the Frame sofa where the supporting structure on which the seat rests is lowered, giving it greater consistency.

The supporting frame brushes the floor without touching it, while the generous height of the seat cushions provides great comfort

Milo

Stefano Giovannoni

sofa Milo - small table Cards floor lamp Giotto

Milo

Milo is an evolution of the Frame sofa which adopts the same extruded aluminum profile, combined with a different joint and foot. The metal structure is now simplified and the frame, instead of rising to structure the armrest, supports the padded part composed by the seats and backrest. The foot bears the load of the frame, tapering its shape to flaunt a refined elegance.

Bold

This family of products makes a bold statement with its generous cylindrical foot, connecting its structural perimeter while delimiting the objects that compose it.

The distinctive metal rim that supports the seats, the tables, the cabinets, graphically encompasses the material with which they are made. This is beautifully portrayed in the tables, where the marble tabletop matches with the legs in turned marble, or with the armchairs featuring leather seats and legs of the same color.

Katana

Paolo Rizzatto

The series of seatings "Katana" identify and combine in a balanced synthesis the three elements that characterize seats (the legs, the seat, the backrest), but at the same time makes them understandable one separated from the other, enhancing in that way the different specific characteristics and mutual relations.

Sweet

Elisa Giovannoni

The design of the armchair takes place by subtracting material from a full spheroidal shape, as if a large spoon created a seat inside a yeasted cake. Inside it is a classic bergère while the rear view projects a more sculptural and prominent presence. A cozy and sweet "Panettone" where you can sit resting your feet on a soft ottoman.

Sipario

Lorenza Bozzoli

The draped Nabuk backrest recalls a stage curtain: like a drape that closes the stage in theaters, here gently wraps the soft seat of small dimensions of this lounge chair.

Bucket

Elisa Giovannoni

A conical and regular shape reminiscent of an upside down bucket encloses the soft seat cushion, the backrest sets like a detail and can have different heights, depending on the type of seat. The design, which is made up of different aggregated elements, allows you to freely combine materials and colors together and to give character to this armchair with fashionable connotations, where the detail becomes the protagonist.

Liù

Paolo Rizzatto

The materiality of the metal alloy flows sinuously into the mold giving life to the idea of a rectangular section with slightly rounded sides and edges which, moving freely in space, re-proposes itself on an increased scale up to design a discreetly curved seat and back (but generously padded!) and ends aiming decisively to the ground with four definitively straight legs.

Fabbrica

Branch Creative

Branch's second chair design for Ghidini, is a study in simplification of both form and construction. Drawing on the iconic lines of the classic chair silhouette, Fabbrica's frame is constructed of a single casting repeated on two sides. Rather than utilizing aluminum extrusions which require welding and complicated finishing, Fabbrica celebrates the simple I-beam section, giving the chair structure with minimal weight.

Coast

Branch Creative

Inspired by the Northern California coastline, the Coast Chair's design draws its influence from a landscape of wandering, golden hills and the meandering roads that intersect them. Blending refined architectural elements with fluid gestures, the chair's form brings surprising design moments to a functional, everyday object.

Lancillotto

The table takes shape as a dialogue between stability and tension, between concave and convex.

A marble top with a shaped profile.

A truncated-conical column with a slight entasis evokes solidity and permanence, recalling an archetypal imagery of classical architecture.

A small, convex metal connector element acts as a capital.

It is at the junction point that the project focuses: where one would expect greater mass, the material becomes thinner. It is not stone, but metal. Not mass, but resistance.

What is structurally crucial also becomes what is formally lighter.

A balance between gravity and abstraction.

Arnold

Paolo Rizzatto

oval table Arnold – chairs Hillary

Arnold

Three geometric shapes (a Line, a Plan, a Volume) and three materials (Metal, Wood, Marble) exploiting the artifice and techniques of “tapering” take the form of a solid tapered column completed with connections at the base and at the head providing a comfortable support surface characterized by a thin rounded edge and a stable truncated cone base. The several combinations of the three geometries and the three materials are enriched by some dimensional variations and, with the study and fine-tuning of their overall proportions, take their definitive and complete form where the elegant aluminum column, which draws and solves the connection and attachment between the top and the base, becomes the distinctive element of the project without taking over the other elements that take part in the compositional game.

Artù

Paolo Rizzatto

table Artù - chairs Arch

Artù

The large circular top is well supported by a solid base formed by a series of overlapping concave and convex rotation volumes alternating the metal (brushed burnished metal scots) and stone (grooves and spheres in precious colored marbles).

The whole communicates a feeling of well-constructed stability and security and of noble architectural richness. The circle evokes the legend of the "Knights of the Round Table", and "King Arthur", stone and metal recall the "Sword in the Stone" back to Excalibur.

Thanks to the strength and visual presence of the supporting leg, the Artù is presented also in a rectangular and oval configurations.

Merlino

Paolo Rizzatto

Merlino

The marble top instead seems to float supported by an unusual structure surprisingly rich and light, airy and iridescent as the points of view change. The linear and curvilinear shapes in burnished and brushed metal that compose it they refer to organic vegetal forms and when reflected in a mirrored surface they multiply and they seem to mysteriously sink in the floor plane.

Tria

Lorenza Bozzoli

table Tria - chairs Spritz

Tria

Dining table with irregularly shaped top, inspired by the section of a river stone, evokes the fluidity and harmony of nature making it a prominent element in any environment.

Selected for its exceptional quality and color, Portuguese pink marble is renowned for its delicate veins that run across the surface, with nuances that make it unique. The top is supported by zoomorphic sculptured bases made of the same material.

The generous supporting leg of the table allows this family to be offered with sizes up to 280cm.

Tria

While preserving the strong identity and aesthetic language of the oval version, this new circular interpretation introduces an important structural innovation: the double support is replaced by a single, imposing central leg. This solid column, distinguished by the elegant interplay of curved cylindrical volumes that characterizes the collection, supports the top with perfect visual and static balance. This evolution of the design transforms the base into a true sculptural monolith, while ensuring complete freedom of movement and seating. In perfect harmony with Ghidini 1961's philosophy of excellence, the new Tria round table celebrates the timeless beauty and material richness of natural stone. The table is available in various high-end marble finishes. Whether in neutral tones such as Calacatta gold, or in bold, contrasting veining, every single slab makes each table a unique, unrepeatable piece.

Tria

Tria also includes coffee tables with triangular tops of three different sizes and heights for numerous compositional possibilities accentuated by the availability of being combined with a wide choice of marbles.

Cards

Starting from the side table introduced last year, the Cards collection expands with new dimensions and a console, evolving into a complete system. The project maintains its formal identity, expressing itself through different proportions and a refined material palette.

small table Cards - sofa Milo

Cards

Cards is a wooden and metal, or marble and metal coffee table that combines functionality and design. Its name comes from direct inspiration: it recalls a construction of playing cards.

Perfect as a bedside table next to a bed or as a side table in the living room, Cards is an object that attracts the eye without being invasive.

Each side tells a different story, transforming a furnishing accessory into a small piece of domestic architecture.

The contrasting surfaces – a dark panel with a rounded profile and a metal side wall create a dynamic visual dialogue.

Da Vinci

Richard Hutten

Side table in crystal and brass in squared or rounded shape.

The Vitruvian man and the idea of the human body perfection: this is how the designer sees this central coffee table shaped perfectly with the squared and round shape. The glass, in the double overlapping layer, reveals and hides at the same time the precious supporting structure in brass.

Cono

Lorenza Bozzoli

A primary shape, reduced to the essential. Cono is a sign.

A balance between mass and image.

A solid volume that tapers, a surface that expands. The contrast is sharp: solid base, slender top.

The mirrored top dissolves the material, reflects the space, makes it unstable.

The shape remains. Precise, inevitable.

Dapertutto

Paolo Rizzatto

Dapertutto is a disturbing character, part magician and part devil from “The Tales of Hoffmann”, Offenbach’s opera fantastique. “Dapertutto” could be the perfect name for this side table designed to sneak “everywhere”, in every environment with its form that is both archetypal (think of the Diablo game) and very contemporary (reminiscing black holes), but still ambiguous and reversible.

Arnold

Paolo Rizzatto

Three geometric shapes (a Line, a Plan, a Volume) and three materials (Metal, Wood, Marble) exploiting the artifice and techniques of “tapering” take the form of: a solid tapered column (in two heights) completed with connections at the base and at the head providing a comfortable support surface characterized by a thin rounded edge and a stable truncated cone base.

small tables Arnold - sofa Elephant
rug Triple waves

Arnold

The several combinations of the three geometries and the three materials are enriched by some dimensional variations and, with the study and fine-tuning of their overall proportions, take their definitive and complete form where the elegant brass column, which draws and solves the connection and attachment between the top and the base, becomes the distinctive element of the project without taking over the other elements that take part in the compositional game.

Ninfee

Alessandro Mendini

As if they were large and flat lilies leaves that run, approach, float and mate while flowing on the water surface of a pond. So these small Ninfee tables float and can stand alone, or pair and get together in spaces creating elegant combinations. They are approachable works that are helpful in their primary function, but very decorative, light and glistening in the sun, in their naturalistic image and vaguely liberty.

Flowers

Stefano Giovannoni

The natural element is the focus of this project of a coffee table where the surface is shaped like a stylized flower. A triptych of distinct elements which rest on a circular foot and, given the different heights, can be pushed together and partially overlapped, instead of be used singularly.

Miami

Nika Zupanc

Just when you're feeling down, and a little bit battered or numbed by life in general, along comes a spectacularly shiny square-metre of table surface to put it all to rights. A perfectly mad place on which to produce the blueprint of your very individualism.

The Plomis bookshelf is a symbol of Italian luxury and elegance. Inspired by flowers, the playful and surprising design adds sophistication to any space. Versatile, Plomis masterfully explores the friction and harmony between minimalist elegance and ornate design. The fragmented surfaces create a stunning interplay of light and shadow, enhancing the contrast between solid metal and the wooden shelves. Bold and innovative.

Flexor

Robert Stadler

Flexor

The Flexor shelving system's aluminum extrusion structure allows endless combination possibilities. The strong metal elements both connect and support the various wooden containers.

The Flexor system is proposed also as families of living and dining cabinets, which can be easily customized in size and colors thanks to the flexibility of the wood containers and the aluminum extrusion structure.

Zuan

Different cultural references and needs in time and space are combined in the Zuan cabinet collection. The classic types of Oriental timeless “cabinets” and the eighteenth-century English “chests” are revisited and updated. The single piece combines three materials in a variable and versatile way: brass, wood and marble. The brass for the support frames and partition walls, the wood for the containers and the marble for the support surfaces. Each Zuan is recognizable by the detail of the support, a quarter of a circle with great aesthetic and functionality, which defines the character of the storage unit.

Mambo

Lorenza Bozzoli

bed Mambo - small table Cards

Mambo

This bed is not simply a piece of furniture but a celebration of the movement, fluidity and expressiveness of the famous Caribbean dance. The sinuous shape allows the bed to unfold in the space in an elegant way, evoking the graceful and lively movements of mambo dancers. Each element of the sofa is composed in harmony with the others in a dance that invites you to lie down and let yourself be lulled by its comfort. The color of the chosen velvet recalls the energy and fertility of the tropical land, its generous curls the costumes of Creole dancers.

Ufo

Next to the Mambo bed is a truly elegant combination – soft and enveloping design on one side, and futuristic and clean lines on the other.” The base is formed by a central column that extends into a four-spoke, pedestal-type support, also in a satin platinum finish, the upper structure is a container open on both sides, useful for storing books, objects or small devices.

Frame

Everything starts from a simple element: “the joint”, which, combined with elegant rounded 45 degrees extrusions, creates an almost infinite family. The collection is characterized by organic junctions that, in their possible combinations, create minimal, compact and powerful structures. The footboard and bed sides of the Frame bed is in casted aluminum and saddle leather, emphasizing the handmade process needed to manufacture the bed.

Tarantino

Soft and welcoming, this bed is inspired by the 70's; a decade that changed our culture forever through freedom and self- discovery. The bed invites you to a world of fantasy where you can indulge in the comfort and coziness of your passions. Tarantino, as if following a skillful plot, proposes itself with a soft goose down cushions covered with textured cotton corduroy proposed in colors inspired by the 70's.

The headboard of the Tarantino bed is made from a lavish structure of soft goose down cushions upholstered in noble fabrics or natural leathers.

The base is composed of four casted aluminum feet, that can be configured with the extensive range of metal finishes available. The Tarantino bed can be complemented with the Tarantino bedside table and chest of drawers in natural oak.

Tarantino

The Tarantino chest of drawers feature curved and delicate lines that reference those of the bed, which they complement naturally.

The cylindrical elements in aluminum perform the function of handles and supporting feet.

Ypsilon

Lorenza Bozzoli

Ypsilon

Ypsilon is born from a simple module, a linear element that opens into a bifurcation and becomes structure, rhythm, composition. Repeated, the module generates ever-changing configurations: light, luminous architectures that expand across the walls or float suspended in the space. The design is continuous, fluid, almost natural, like a line that grows and branches out.

The joints become nodes, points of energy and connection, while the light follows the sign, emphasizing its geometry.

Dash

Johanna Grawunder

lamp Dash - table Tria

Dash

Dash is a light of texture and geometry. Thick, fume'-colored cast acrylic panels, illuminated along the top edge, suspend from the tubular structure which zig zags its way through its route. The light is filtered through the material making a geometric dappled-light effect. With minimal structure, the light is maximized through the acrylic panels, creating a soft, transparent, and warm glow, with a crispier white light onto surfaces below.

Tratto

Paolo Rizzatto

The essence of the sophisticated form of a lighting fixture is expressed in a custom-made proposal. Besides being available in standard sizes for the single version, Tratto becomes a modular element that can be repeated infinitely. Elegance, versatility and discreet presence define the design of a product that is suitable for both residential and workspace solutions.

lamp Tratto – table Arnold – chairs Hillary

Unduetre

Paolo Rizzatto

Three essential elements interact between stability and momentum. The cylindrical marble base is solid, present and stable. The curved, off-axis brass stem introduces a dynamic tension, almost a suspended movement. The truncated-conical shade in cast glass receives and transforms the light, diffusing it into the space. The project combines marble, brass and glass, enhancing their technical, tactile and visual qualities, thus defining the object.

Helios

Branch Creative

Supported on a simple stand and base, Helios balances a conic glass shade on top of a small glowing sphere.

Magically suspended above the Sphere, this semi-translucent shade can be angled and pivoted in any direction allowing a range the versatility - from focused light for reading to a more diffused ambient effect for the gathering of groups.

The iconic blown glass lampshade fully hides the lighting source when switched off.

Can Can

Johanna Grawunder

Can Can is a kick of light up and down. A multi-directional light, adjustable for maximum flexibility and effect, Can Can easily becomes task, accent and ambient light all at once. With Can Can, light is a result of personalized choreography. Light is a subjective quality: Can Can gives options.

Mio Bio Trio

Aldo Cibic

Mio, Bio and Trio are born from the idea of creating a gentle form, light but consistent and timeless, using brass as a single material. Thanks to the versatility of the rod it is possible to create articulated and original structures, while the sheets allows to realize the lampshades which spread a golden light, warm and soft. The satinated finish give these sleek table lamps a refined and understated allure allowing them to easily feature in residential, hospitality and office environments.

Factory

Branch Creative

The bell metal lamp used in industrial halls is a no-name icon to the metal suspension, in a balance between technical and functional image and memory, easily finds its place in the contemporary sensibility.

Our take is a noble metal version with the smooth and reflective bell, and the signature casting that encloses the bulb holder and the anchor hook.

Indi-pendant

Richard Hutten

The inspiration came from utilitarian factory lamps. The key element is the way they hang. A simple, elegant pendant lamp which works in many different environments. The brass gives a warm reflection and they can be used both at home as well as in commercial environments such as shops and restaurants.

Fan

Setsu & Shinobu Ito

Fan is a mirror inspired by the iconic shape of the classic Japanese fan in its semi-circular opening. An object that in the Japanese tradition is not only used to emanate air, but also to create a diaphragm between two people, to hide shyness but in this case allows you to be reflected. The structure is completely made polished brass die-casted, the central part is instead made of a generous mirrored surface that allows the user to reflect.

Portrait

Branch Creative

A classic Renaissance monofora is the form that inspired the two mirrors. The arc is defined by brass profile rounded at the bottom, just like on a windowsill to lean on, then a little bird appear: poetic quotations that lead to the practice of the portrait and games of reflections.

Frying Pan

Branch Creative

The Frying Pan is a mirror that marks a return to the rural elements in design and society and pictures humble stable tools. Now that the farmers of the world cloth, feed and fuel us, a far-reaching movement triggers designers to revisit folk and farm mentalities to blend rural and urban styles.

Tumbrella & Butler

Richard Hutten

Inspiration for these umbrella stands was found in the shape of an umbrella, as can be seen in antique predecessors.

The handle has been conceived as a hook for the foldable umbrella's. It's a contemporary interpretation of a classic product typology.
