"Art is research, the perpetual invention of details, the selection of materials, and the careful attention to execution."

THE DIFFERENCE LIES IN THE DETAILS

A philosophy that makes one thing clear: detail is never accidental, never placed without intention, and never designed without first observing, studying, and refining. Details express the personality of an object: its strength, its character, and its identity. Research into materials, forms, and innovative technologies transforms every detail into an integral part of the product, creating a seamless dialogue between the object and the space it inhabits.

At Sevensedie, this is how everything is created: with the utmost care and an unwavering commitment to excellence.

MOODBOARD

A VISUAL NARRATIVE

A mood board is a visual representation of concepts, ideas, colors, fabrics, and materials that allows designers to communicate the style and defining characteristics of a project to clients at a glance. This powerful form of visual expression is one of the ways Sevensedie collaborates with international design professionals. But Sevensedie represents much more: a platform of excellence and services designed to meet the needs of designers worldwide, supporting them in fulfilling the expectations of the most discerning clients through professionalism, efficiency, technical expertise, and authentic Italian artisanal know-how.

ELEGANCE PROJECT

SEVENSEDIE'S VISION OF THE WORLD OF LUXURY

The Elegance project reflects Sevensedie's perspective on today's world, its evolving trends, and new ways of shaping spaces and furnishings. Italian and international designers draw from different eras and styles, often seemingly distant from one another. Rather than being an obstacle, this becomes a source of inspiration, an invitation to mix, combine, and bring together elements that appear unrelated, yet ultimately create striking and highly impactful compositions. The Elegance project embraces this vision, giving life to eclectic, refined, and perfectly balanced spaces where nothing is left to chance.

A LIVING SPACE WITH TIMELESS APPEAL

THE ELEGANCE OF HOSPITALITY

The living area is a place dedicated to relaxation, conversation, and the sharing of moments destined to become lasting memories. A welcoming space that invites people to slow down and enjoy time with effortless elegance. Sevensedie interprets this setting through a refined selection of furniture, finishes, and chromatic choices, creating an exclusive atmosphere where every element is carefully designed to exist in perfect harmony with the surrounding architecture.

This vision is embodied by the Trio coffee tables, featuring exquisite Dark Emperador marble tops, and the Moon display cabinets, distinguished by their elegant, fluted back panels. At the heart of the room, the Tevere sofa becomes the focal point of the room with its timeless appeal, enhanced by a beautifully crafted classic deep-tufted upholstery in warm grey leather. Each element integrates seamlessly with the room's classic character, enhancing its enduring charm. The imposing fireplace, crowned by a large integrated mirror, reflects both the light and the warmth of the flames, amplifying the sense of welcome and understated elegance that defines this living space.

The fabric cushions, in shades of green and neutral tones, harmoniously interact with the warm grey leather upholstery, creating a sophisticated balance of textures and materials.

AESTHETICS AND FUNCTIONALITY

THE DESIGN OF A HANDLE OR A JEWEL?

According to the dictionary: "Handle: a component made of metal, wood, or other materials, designed to be grasped by hand, fixed to doors, cabinet fronts, or other elements in order to open, pull, or operate them."

By this definition, a handle appears to be nothing more than a simple object created to perform a specific function. Yet, when we consider how many handles have been produced throughout history and across the world, and how many continue to be designed and crafted today, we may begin to wonder: perhaps a handle is defined by more than its function alone.

Let us think of a piece of jewelry, and above all, where it is traditionally placed: around the neck, on the ear, on the wrist, or on the hand. A detail that enriches, illuminates, and expresses the uniqueness of the individual.

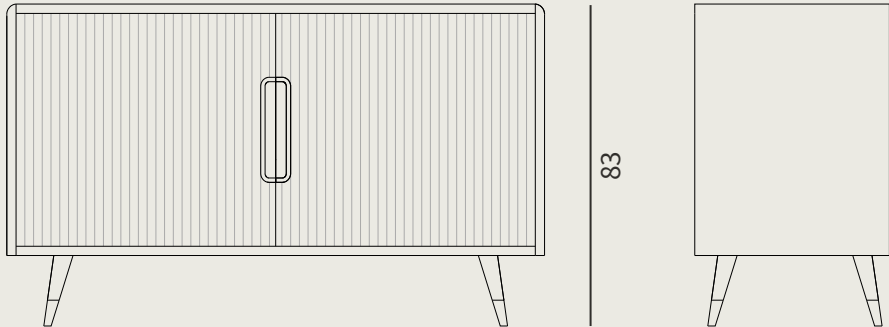

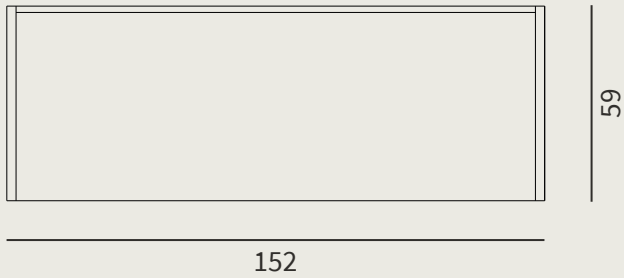

A handle, too, inevitably occupies a highly visible position. Like a jewel, it becomes a detail that captures attention.

Our research therefore focused on transforming this functional element into an object of exclusive value: a detail that completes our furniture, becoming its most precious jewel and the expression of the piece's own personality.

FROM IDEA TO SKETCH TO OBJECT

THE GENESIS OF A PRODUCT (PROJECT)

Thought. Hand. Drawing.
Three essential gestures that have always shaped the creation of an object: whether a living space, a piece of furniture, or a precious detail.
It is always the act of drawing that makes it real, tangible, alive.
Lines repeatedly traced on paper gradually bring clarity to thought from an initial vision, each mark refines the object, making it more detailed, more complete.
Only in this way does one enter into harmony with one's own creations, establishing a dialogue between idea and matter that accompanies the project through each stage, all the way to its final realization.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

At Sevensedie, the Research & Development department is the driving force behind every project. When it comes to materials, we search for them, select them, and rigorously test them. When it comes to products, we conceive, design, and bring them to life with our own hands. Some ideas come to us while travelling the world, meeting people from different cultures and countries, discovering perspectives and needs far removed from our own that become inspiring and innovative challenges. Rare woods, the finest marbles, leather, and precious fabrics are transformed into distinctive details and essential components of products that become truly unique, because the experience they embody is unique as well.
